MONEY is the cheapest thing in the world and wheat is the dearest. We have the largest supplies of both, and naturally we export the one which is the cheapest.

Cheap Money; Dear Wheat.

There is no such accumulation of wheat in the world as that held in Chicago, where it is held out of relation to the world's markets. Our supplies of gold also are more than ample, but they are held out of Bankers' use by law as much as wheat is held out of Bankers' use by speculation. The corner in wheat seems a misfortune, but unless history shall fail to repeat itself, it will prove a blessing in disguise, for the price of cornered commodities always sinks to abnormal cheapness. It is said that the Chicago speculator has bread-eaters by the throat. It is more nearly true that they have him at their mercy, since by eating something besides wheaten bread they could ruin him. Usually such adventures are blocked by their lack of credit. Of this the prospect seems very slight at present, but the connection between the redundancy of the currency, the exports of gold and the holding of wheat out of consumption is something worth considering by those who regard currency reform as something academic.—New York Times.

DID you ever see a College Professor who believed in anything but a revision of the Tariff downward?—Des Moines Capital.

THIS is the era of the High School in Kentucky. It will be gratifying to know that several hundred new High Schools will be established in the State this year. Nowhere on earth is education receiving the serious and financial attention than in Kentucky, by a few thousand persons. What we desire is, for a few hundred thousand to systematically push the educational problem and help solve it.

IT is argued that women need votes to get proper laws for the protection of their children. We do not see much force in that argument. The male is not so ferocious in these parts as to be dangerous to children, nor is he even indifferent to what happens to them. Men are very ready to take orders as it is from mothers, and even from aunts, in matters that affect the welfare of children. The only laws that women would be likely to pass if they voted, which might fail without their votes, would be laws restraining fathers from spoiling their daughters by over-indulgence. Laws restraining mothers from spoiling their sons by blind adoration can never be passed whether suffrage comes or not.—Life.

THE "INSIDES" OF NELLIE.

Shortly before the close of a city school one of the teachers received the following note from the fond mother of one of the pupils:

"Dear Sir: you will please not lern my chldren enny thing more about fizzyology stuff. I don't think it is pority to talk to children about their insides and skullion and bonz. And I wont have it. I want my chldren razied nice. You can lern them to speak gramer and talk correct, but I dont desire them to know such things as bonze. Please let them come home befor the fizzyology class begins to talk. NELLIE'S MOTHER."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. # Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

THEIR OWN MILLINERS.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth is said to have the very best taste in millinery and could, if need be, earn her living by trimming hats. Miss Isabel May, one of Washington's celebrated brunettes beauties, makes all her own hats. Many other Washington women are said to have talent as amateur milliners and could, if necessary, earn a living in that way.

Can You Ask More?

I am so confident that I can furnish relief for indigestion and dyspepsia that I promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to everyone who uses it according to directions who is not perfectly satisfied with the results. I exact no promises and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely nothing could be fairer. I am located right here where you live, and my reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of my offer.

I want every one who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to my store and get a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. They are very pleasant to take; they soothe the irritable stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, promote a healthy and natural bowel action, almost immediately relieve nausea and stomach irritation, produce healthy digestion and assimilation, and promote nutrition. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1. Remember you can obtain Rexall remedies in Maysville only at my store—The Rexall Store. Thomas J. Chenoweth, corner Second and Sutton streets.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock a. m.

The evenings are now getting longer and cooler and people are beginning to leave the porch earlier and seek a book to pass away the time in a more congenial place. Nothing adds more to the pleasure of reading than a good light. Electric light is by all means the best, and since the invention of the new TUNGSTEN

LAMP it is within the reach of all. See us at once and let us tell you all about it.
